

Q: What are Vibration Remedies®?

A: At a molecular level, Vibration Remedies are pure H<sub>2</sub>O, at a quantum level this water is vibrating in very specific Harmonic Frequencies.

Q: How do Vibration Remedies® benefit us?

A: The vibration frequencies that have been immersed into the remedies contain 'information' that has come directly from source or the Creator, therefore it is based on Universal Truth.

Every 'thing' in the Universe is vibrating, this vibration can take the form of light (colour), sound (tone) and /or geometry (shape). This is all there is! Different vibration frequencies represent different 'stuff'. This 'stuff' can be pure consciousness, thought, emotion or it can drop down lower in vibration and become physical matter (everything we see with our 5 senses). Our body is made up of many vibrating layers, the physical body is the final physical manifestation of these combined vibrations.

Vibration Remedies® benefit us by bringing us back to the original vibrations of pure truth, this truth may be on a thought/emotion level (The Virtues) or it could be working with the Chakra system, bringing a balance to their individual vortex spin, or it could be working with the physical cellular level of organs and other bodily parts and functions to balance and bring us back to harmony with all in nature and the Universe.

One analogy I like to use to explain Vibration Remedies® and our being is one using terms related to computers, since computers and the silicon chip is a part of us, was born thru us and our own cells are going thru metamorphosis of the current carbon base to the more information rich and higher vibrating silica base, I think using the computer is relevant.

Our physical body, the hard drive, is surrounded by an energetic body, the operating system, and uses information/data, the software, in our local environment for interpretation and decision making. I see Vibration Remedies® as software upgrades for our operating system adding extra (or more truthful) reference points for interpreting our environment for making more holistic decisions based in Universal Truth.

Q: How are these specific vibration frequencies immersed into the water?

A: It is a very unique and delicate process of total co-creation with the spirit realm and in particular the Devic level. First, I connect with the Harmonic Realm of Nature, The Inner Earth Council, Pan (Nature/Forest God), My Higher Self, the Overlighting Deva of Vibration Remedies and the Overlighting Deva of the vibration frequency (harmonic) I am asking to receive, such as an emotion, a specific chakra, the consciousness of an animal or tree, or maybe a mineral. Anything really, if it is informed, it contains a Devic layer (the devic layer is the consciousness or intelligence of the specific manifestation).

Once permission is given I then proceed to download (channel) a signature vibration template, this template is a geometric symbol that indicates specific harmonics of vibration frequencies. The template is a blueprint containing Universal Information of Truth. This information is then immersed into the water using another sacred geometric tool, a Flower of Life Quartz Crystal, along with my Intent and Blessing and the Intent and Blessing of Pan. (Pan is the CEO, if you like, of the Devic Realm).

This infusion takes 8 hours, the remedy is then bottled and ready for use.

Q: Tell me about each of the different vibration remedy groups and how they work.

A: There are a number of groups of Vibration Remedies®, these are;

The Virtues, Chakra Balance, Animal Consciousness, Australian Tree Essence, Nature Forces, MyPet, Energetic Nutrition and other specific remedies.

The Virtues are thoughtforms or emotions that make up our reality. It is Us that make our reality what it is, what we 'see' and what we perceive we 'see'! When a situation or event happens to us we call on cellular memory to make a perception of what that event means to us, this perception is limited by our belief system, our belief system has been given to us (programmed into us) from our parents, schooling and our daily lives within society. We have been conditioned to believe a certain way and to only 'see' a certain part of the totality of reality. This programming started to happen at around the age of 2 (which could explain the symptoms called the terrible 2's, we may in fact be trying to reject these limitations being projected onto/into us). The Virtues help us to 'remember' the fundamental reference points of Universal Truths, they give us back these reference points to call on when we are making a perception of our environment, they give us the ability to look at situations with a more balanced holistic view.

It will also be beneficial to include here new research indicating the link of our thoughts/emotions and our physical cellular biology. When a cell in our body decides it is time to divide, it does so taking along all the vibratory information that surrounds that cell. The new 'daughter' cell grows with this energetic blueprint and will focus more development on receptor sites according to the information blueprint i.e. if you continue to focus on negative thought patterns or you have any type of addiction (and we all do), then the new cell will have more receptor sites to receive the peptides associated with that emotion chemical in the blood stream and therefore will have less receptor sites for other chemicals and information such as vitamins, minerals and other nutrition along with the discarding of wastes and toxins.

This cellular energetic blueprint comes from our thoughts based on our perceptions based on our beliefs relating to our environment! Therefore, if we re-train our energetic framework to focus on building receptor sites based on positive thought and nutritional qualities and less on the 'human drama', we can expect to live much longer and be all the more healthy both physically and spiritually. Our cells are constantly dividing with the original cell dieing, in fact I believe it is something like 50 million cells split and divide every second. Every 90 days or so we practically have a brand new body (apart from our bones which regenerate approx. every 7 years), therefore we truly have the opportunity to re-invent our physical form every second. The complete range of Vibration Remedies® provides the assistance to do just that.

Back to the original question, the Chakra Balance Vibration Remedies® correct or balance the spin frequency of our 12 major Chakras. Our Chakras are points of information exchange and they spin in a vortex. Each chakra spins within a specific frequency range, acting like a radio receiver picking up on Universal radio waves of Information or Data which then drops down in vibration and is distributed throughout our aura, and into the physical body and its specific organs and bodily functions. It is very important to have your chakras spinning at the correct frequency to remain in the Universal flow. Stagnation results with incorrect energy flow, then dis-ease and dis-order has the opportunity to manifest.

The Animal Consciousness and Tree Essence Vibration Remedies® are tools that can assist us to raise our awareness and in turn, enable us to perceive our environment from other angles, with more options. Unlike the Virtues and Chakras, the animal and tree frequencies are not essential for us to have but they are Universal Information and can be very beneficial for us to incorporate into our energetic system. At our pure, highest level we do have these frequencies, we know every frequency in the entire Universe as we are indeed a piece of the Creator itself.

Q: Can you explain what magnetic attraction is and how it affects our everyday life?

A: I'm glad this question has been presented, it is extremely important to understand this Universal principal and how it affects us 'positively' and 'negatively'.

The law of magnetic attraction means 'like attracts like'. It is a simple equation that says two or more frequencies of the same harmonic or vibration will be attracted to each other.

Its not so much the 'vehicle' that gets attracted but the signals that are being projected from that vehicle within the quantum/unified field. We, as vibrating beings and all other vibratory information in the unified field pick up this signal sub-consciously and either are drawn toward it or repelled by it.

Therefore it is important to understand that everything that is attracted to you is a result of you personally projecting that signal into the unified field. You have to be in that state of harmonic to have the signal and manifest event attracted into your reality! It is that simple. This can be a hard pill to swallow for some people whom feel they are an innocent party to 'negative' events that happen in their life. We all go thru challenges, some are more demanding than others and some seem just plain wrong, but they all happen because YOU invited them into your reality by your thoughts.

Some events may be part of your Sacred Contract that you agreed to when coming to the planet to further your soul growth and/or aid the soul growth of another and some events are due to your conditioning of limitation and focus of negative thoughts that not only retard the growth of your cellular makeup and can eventually result in cancer (cancer is a cell/group of rouge cells that have separated from the localised community and changed in vibration alienating themselves from your harmonic environment) along with the dramatic effects we have just discussed in attracting the like energy to you.

Now this can be negative just as it can be positive, and it is the positive that we wish to concentrate on. We really have a major impact on every detail we encounter in our daily lives and it is up to you to create it in what ever way you choose. Stay positive, operate out of love and gratitude, understand that everything happens for a reason and the possibility of a frown turning into a smile is only a thought away.

Q: Have any other remedies been recently released?

A: Yes, The Energetic Nutrition Vibration Remedies® take a radical approach to health and nutrition if looked at from a 3D point of view. But if looked at from a higher perspective where everything is vibration, where everything is of Universal Information, then wouldn't this also be true with providing the sustenance of our physical body. It is our physical body that is at a lower vibration derived from higher vibration frequencies. We, as a race and the Earth herself is moving out of the confines of the 3rd dimension and into the 4th and 5th dimensions of extra perception and sensory reaction. To do this our cells have been changing, we currently live on planet earth in the 3rd dimension where carbon is the building block. Our organic cells are made of carbon. Our cells are changing and like our cousin the computer, which is a manifestation of our thoughts, we will move into the silicon age. Our organic cellular structure will become and are becoming silicon based. This means we no longer will need or will receive our 'energy', 'sustenance' or 'information' from very dense physical carbon based foods. I believe this is one of the major contributors of obesity. We are being asked to adapt our 'food' intake to harmonise with our changing cellular makeup and our physical bodies changing requirements.

I see the Energetic Nutrition Vibration Remedies® as a transitional energy or information source for our bodies as we start to adapt to the fact that we are living an illusion in the 3rd dimension and enable us to more easily embrace this transition into the higher dimensions where our sustenance will come from pure ether or prana. No tools needed.

The Energetic Nutrition Vibration Remedies® consist of major and trace minerals, vitamins, amino acids and enzymes, at this stage you will still need to supplement with essential fatty acids.

I truly believe that I have been guided to assist on planet earth in coming to the understanding that we are magnificent beings of light who are currently living on a very dense physical planet to learn and enhance our spiritual growth. I believe the main lesson we are hear to learn it that WE create our reality, our thoughts and our out intent create all that is, on the 3rd dimension this means physical form.

It is going to become extremely important to acknowledge this fact, our thoughts create our reality. In the 4th and 5th dimensions our thoughts will manifest instantly, it will not have the time lag that we currently experience, when we think it, it happens! Stay in negativity and fear and you will perish. Fact! You are a magnificent being of creation, in fact you are a fragment of the creator itself, when we collectively remember this then we will start living in the promised 'Paradise', it will be heaven on Earth, when you and me, together, create a balanced Unity reality based on Truth, Love and Harmony.

I speak my truth when I say that QiGrow Vibration Remedies® can prove to be an extremely beneficial tool to assist us along this unbelievable and unparalleled opportunity we all have to transcend the limitations that have been put on us, and that we continue to buy into here on the 3rd dimensional earth.

Q: Is there any research that qualifies what you are presenting with the Vibration Remedies®?

A: If we look at new research in the field of Epigenetics (meaning 'above genetics') Dr Bruce Lipton tells us in his new book 'Biology of Belief' that it is not the Genes themselves which dictate our genetic and physical makeup, it is our environment which our cells respond and relate to which determines how our genetics are assembled, it is this environmental information which has the greatest effect on the physical being.

The equation is this; Our cells interpret our 'Environment' (and this starts in the womb) by reading the messages or information that is surrounding that cell, each cell is a living breathing fully functional being with its own Consciousness! Trillions of cells make up our physical body which are all interpreting our local environment and then working and communicating to each other to create the form we know as our physical body. What is the environment they are interpreting? Thought! It is the extremely powerful vibration frequencies of thought which surround all 'things' in the Universe and therefore it is these thoughts which create our reality. The cell is taking on board this information to make a perception of its local environment. If the local environment is surrounded in fear, then the cell restricts rates of growth by changing the release of certain hormones and in turn stressing the collective cellular body. If we are thinking and emotionalising positive thoughts such as love, gratitude and abundance, then the cell respond to this information and continue their expected rates of growth in harmonic resonance with their environment and the other trillion cells making up the cellular community.

It may be true You are what you Eat, it is also true, You are what you Think!

Another researcher that has received extensive reviews is Dr Masaru Emoto. He photographs frozen water droplets that have been affected by our thoughts and intent revealing the geometric crystallisation of these thoughts upon water.

Dr Emoto was in the movie 'What the Bleep do we know?' which is also a good resource for this topic.

Research regarding quantum physics/mechanics also enhances what I have just been saying.
